

Call for Papers: Belief and Identity in the Ancient World

6th Annual Birmingham Egyptology Symposium

31st May 2019

University of Birmingham, UK

We invite abstract submissions from postgraduates and independent researchers pertaining to the individual's interpretation of the above theme, which can include, but is not limited to: archaeology, art, language, history, religion, restoration, epigraphy, cultural memory, and modern perspectives.

Presentations may take the form of a 20-minute paper AND/OR an A0 research poster.

Abstracts:

- max. 300 words, to be submitted by Friday 1st March 2019 at 5pm to besymposium2019@gmail.com
- Confirmation of the decision will be emailed by Monday 11th March

Following the Symposium, presenters will be invited to submit their papers or posters as articles to be considered for publication in the Birmingham Egyptology Journal.

NB Presenters must make their own arrangements for transportation of posters, when applicable.

For further information about this event, please visit the Birmingham Egyptology website at www.birminghamegyptology.co.uk. Contact us at the above email address to register your interest or ask any questions.